“ While it hurts, with great pain and grief, the good Lord calls his children home. He has a plan for all of us. While I agree that we should never have to bury our children, sometimes things happen for a reason.

The one thing no one can ever take from us, is memories. Take comfort and knowing he is now with the Lord. RIP Andrew... 🙏 “Andy wasn’t the kind of person you describe with the usual words — because nothing about him felt “usual.” He had this way of walking into a room and instantly shifting the energy. You didn’t even realize you needed that laugh until he gave it to you.

He was funny in a real way — not forced, not trying too hard — just naturally quick, sharp, and always right on time. The kind of humor that caught you off guard and stayed with you long after the moment passed. And it wasn’t just about the jokes... it was how alive he made everything feel. Conversations were better. Workdays moved faster. Even tough days felt a little lighter when Andy was around.

But what made Andy truly special was the way he showed up for his team — every single day. He cared about the work, but more importantly, he cared about people. He took pride in what we were building, held the line when it mattered, and never asked more from anyone than he was willing to give himself. His dedication wasn’t loud or for recognition — it was consistent, real, and felt by everyone around him.

He didn’t just exist in a space — he filled it. Loud in spirit, genuine in heart, and always bringing a presence you couldn’t ignore.

It’s hard to picture things without that energy, that laugh, that spark. But if you ever had the chance to experience it, you know exactly what I mean — and that’s something that sticks with you.

Andy wasn’t just memorable... he was unforgettable.-
The video is a small example of the fun spirit he brought ever day!
