“ Charlene was my best friend in high school. We spent a lot of time together. Especially our senior year. We made the trip to nursing school to take entrance exams. That was the last year we spent time together. I took my mother to the long street clinic and I ran into Charlene while I was there. I found out she was living in Maysville. I loved Charlene like a sister and was saddened by her passing. I wish we had connect ed I would have loved to met her family. I hope at some point she shared some of her memoirs She was smart and fun to be around. I did not realize she had passed until yesterday.

“ I visited the wilbanks home 3-4 years ago he was not there but she ask me in and was a very nice lady I told her I would return to visit her husband, I am so sorry I never did get back. My reason for the visit he and I have the same name, Lamar Wilbanks, and I am sad to say I lost my wife jean on Feb. 15th after 65 years. I know what he is going through I continue to grieve every day, I will never get over the loss of my wife. My God Bless your family. Lamar Wilbanks, Baldwin
