“ Joe was always out cutting grass He always had a smile on his face. He was a very sweet man. He loved to talk about the navy days. I really enjoyed listening to him. He would bring me fruit from his weekly Saturday morning visits to the flea market. He would give you or loan you anything he had that you may need. He was a fighter and loved life. He enjoyed music and sometimes you could hear it from across the way. I guess his last few days were just too hard for him and he decided to go where he can be strong again. You will be truly missed Joe. Love you.
