“ I loved playing canasta with Grammy (never got the hang of cribbage but hopefully one day!) but what I will remember the most is the way she would sing or hum as she went about her day, whether she was doing dishes or when she was thinking about which card to play she would always hum a little tune 🎵

What a loving women you were Mom. Your family was your life. You were there for all of us when we needed you. I will always remember my visits with you in Florida (our quilting days) I loved to see you in the fabric stores picking out fabric for your beautiful quilts. You have left use each with a quilt to wrap around us so we will always feel your love. I never did figure out how to count the points when we played cribbage. Linda
