“ Jin and I are going to miss you. We both love you very much.

You were the rock of this family. I don't think that you deserved this to happen to you.

There was so much that you still could have given to this world. You have such a kind heart. You would do all you could to help others in need. It didn't matter if you didn't know them that well. You are very smart and befriend anyone that first met you. And your friendly personality is what brought a lot of people to be close to you. Some of these things and others were your greatest strengths. These and many other reasons are the reason why I believe that you were taken too soon..... And I think that it is not fair... However.. it seems that God has another purpose for you. I just only hope that even though you can't be with us anymore for now that you are not suffering. I also hope that your spirit is at peace.

*Love you..
