“ Tommy Stephenson was a steadfast friend and supporter of the Commerce Public Library, and a quiet, frequent presence there. But when we needed help in getting the necessary state funding for an expansion of the library, Tommy stepped forward and offered his assistance. He still had powerful contacts from his days as our State Representative, and he reached out to them, making sure they knew that we were on the list for a state grant, and urging them to support our application. He also helped us understand how we could lobby the state legislature: to whom we should write, and what information we should supply in support of our case.

And then he receded into the background again, and became just another quiet reader. He was a modest man, and I think he was shy about our gratitude. But I still sometimes wonder how long it might have taken us to get that grant, without his very specific and generous help.

“ Hey Tommy, I'm happy the last time I saw you we ate breakfast together. You touched so many lives, I've lost count of how many patients would ask for you everytime I went into the room. You made a difference in peoples lives by just being a wonderful person. You will be missed. So until we meet again, rest in peace Tommy.

I'm so very sorry for your loss. I have worked with Tommy for several years as Kennestone Hospital, but only recently discovered we both discover that we knew each other well when we were at Georgia State in the Respiratory Therapy program. We had lunch together almost everyday and remember that he had to leave the class early the last week to take care of important mayoral issues in Commerce. He always seemed dedicated to his work no matter what it entailed. He will be missed by many of us at Kennestone. Goodbye my friend.

“ Tommy Stephenson was the best friend I ever had. His family was like a second family to me throughout our school years. Although I was about four years older than Tommy, we were inseparable. Whatever sport was in season we played together. I would spend hours with his family watching TV. He and I had a great love for sports and along with Eric and Pat Hodson, also played many hours at both of their homes. With my military servie and his service to his community, county and state, we lost personal contact, but he has always been on my mind and each visit to Commerce, I would inquire about him and his family! I am proud to have known Tommy and to have spent so many great hours with he and his entire family! Rest is peace my dear friend!

“ I have so many of my Uncle Tommy but the very best is the day he married Shane and I. We had to make him promise not to be long winded during the ceremony. He will be missed by so many and he left an amazing legacy for his girls and grandchildren. Until we meet again Tombo! ❤️

“ Tommy was one of those friends from school years and the neighborhood that everyone seemed close to. As we all grew older we went our different ways. I saw him at Presto's a while back-maybe early Spring. We spoked and hugged. I will miss him..
